Dear Mr President,

I urge you to release Ayachi Hammami immediately and unconditionally.

Ayachi Hammami is a human rights lawyer who has spent decades defending human rights and advocating for judicial independence in Tunisia. He has defended journalists, activists, opposition politicians and others who have been persecuted for peacefully criticising the authorities.

After representing defendants in the so-called “conspiracy case”, he was sentenced to several years in prison following an unfair trial. His case exemplifies the growing repression of critics and independent voices in Tunisia.

Ayachi Hammami is being detained solely because of his peaceful human rights activism and his work as a lawyer. He must be released immediately and unconditionally.

Yours sincerely,
